DANA JACOBS AND SARA NINTZEL are two friends who, for many years dreamed of writing a childrens book. They collaborated to create The "(Mis) Adventures of Dasher". The book is told through the perspective of an adorable puppy and is meant to express to children that even when they make mistakes, they are still loved. Dana and Sara have the experience of having written, illustrated, published and taken their book to market. We have asked that they come and share that process with others who may be aspiring to do the same.
